of his interesting address, was literally overwhelmed with bouquets, which were showered upon him by his admiring friends. Mr. H. L. Rollins, of Scott county, received the orator's medal. This is the second time that he has received this honor. The subject of his address twas: "My country, may she ever be right, but, right or wrong, my country," which was handled in a masteriy and attractive manner, and elicited round after round of appiause.

The awards were made by Col. Churchill Semple, of Alabama, and Prof. Geo. Merrill, of Richmond, in chaste and appropriate speeches, complimenting all, but especially those who were most successful, and urging others to renewed efforts in the future.

At 11 A. M. to-day, in the presence of a great crowd, Hon. James X. Stabbs of Gloucester made his speech. Every available place in the chapel was filled, and on the rostrum were seated the Board of Visitors of the edident of the institute, and the rostrum were seated the Board of Visitors of the place in the chapel was filled, and on the rostrum were seated the Board of Visitors of the place in the chapel was filled, and on the place in the chapel was filled, and on the rostrum were seated the Board of Visitors, the faculty, and representatives of the two literary societies, as the address was to be delivered before the latter bedies. The theme chosen was "Virginia, and her Educational Advantages."

The speaker, who is well known here, was in his best mood, and his introduction and appearance before the audience was the occasion for vociferous applause. The mannor in which he discussed this important and interesting subject plainly evinced a thorough enowledge of the question. tant and interesting subject plainly evinced a thorough enowledge of the question. He showed the superior educational advantages of this State, and especially those offered by William and Mary of to-day. He spoke of the fast declining antipathy to public education, which now only exists among a few old moss-backs and fossils, and the growing and permanent sentiment of the great mass of our people in favor of such education, and in this connection remarked, "That the young men and young women of the present day do not look upon it with disgrace to receive an education at the hands of their native State." This sentiment met a responsive chord in the hearts bler and contortionist, of Norfolk, and the hands of their native State." This sentiment met a responsive chord in the hearts of the andience, as if was long and loudly applauded.

He also spoke of General Robert E. Lee as a great and glorious chieftain, who had drunk at the fountain of knowledge, supported at public expense, and drew a brief but vivid picture of his great and undying deeds, the memory of which will last till lime shall be no more. He reviewed in brief the glorious past of this, his Alma Mater, the active part her sons have taken in every patriotic movement since the midnight ride of Paul Revere to notify the patriots of the tyrant's approach, down through every change that has been wrought in our land to 1861, when her students laid aside their books and buckled on the sword in defense of what they then believed to be right, some of whom laid down thrives on the altar of their country in sight of this historic spot. THE SHLVER CONFERENCE

Nothing resulted from the second meeting of the Senate and House conferees on the Silver bill to-day. Propositions to make all silver certificates heretofore issued full legal tender, and to make customs duties payable in gold, were made, but they were not acted on. The main point at issue—that of free coinage—was not touched upon, and the conference adjourned to meet on Saturday, meanwhile the Republican members of the conference will endeavor to reach an agreement. The Democratic members say they still stand firm for free coinage.

While these people are thus famishing for food the fish ring is daily throwing away thousands of pounds of fish. It seems an outrage that food should be so wasted, and yet the retail price of fish remains as high as the flnest beef in market. Yesterday 100,000 pounds were thrown out on the dumps to be made into fertilizer.

This morning, a watchman at the foot of Fifth street, Hoboken, found the body of a nicely dressed woman floating in the slip, and in her arms was clasped the dead form of a deheate little infant. The body was identified as that of Mrs. Franz Wenlandt, of 140 Park avenue. She and her husband committed suicide some time last night by jumping off the dock. The cause of the triple tragedy was that a woman had loan-
